BRINGING IN NEW MEN.

CLEVELAND IN ALABAMA

Elequent Words to the Young Men's Democratic Leagues of Georgia-The President Advises Them to be Thoughtful and Loyal Mrs. Cleveland Fairly Loaded Down With the Choicest Fruits-The Departure.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20 .- The President left at midnight for Montgomery. Before the train started, Col. Elliott, of the South Florida exhibit in the fair, brought to the President's car grapes, fruit, oranges, lemons, guava jellies, pineapples, and honey of Florida make for Mrs. Cleveland's breakfast table to-day. A large mandarin orange tree, which was presented to Mrs. Cleveland by

Col. Elliott, was too large to place upon the car, so it was fixed up in an artistic manner with flaming torches.

A liberal display of fireworks lent brightness to the seene, and between the cheers of the people and the countermarching of the torch-bearers there was such a demonstration or is said on seen.

torch-bearers there was such a demonstration as is seldom seen.

When the torch-bearers had gathered around the artesian well, where President Cleveland stood in review, he arose and said:

"I shall not soon forget, my friends, the cordiality and enthusiasm of the welcome of the people of Atlanta and the State of Georgia, a cordiality which no circumstance can vary and an enthusiasm who he even inclement weather cannot at all dampen. (Cheers.) I shall remember it not as a personal tribute, but as an evidence of the love of the people of the United States for the office which represents their sovereignty. (Cheers.) I have seen in the West and South such demonstrations as satisfy me that in all time to come the Government of our fathers is safe. (Creat cheering.) You have illuminated in our presence to-night have illuminated in our presence to-night the sentiment, "Welcome, our Presi-dent," (Cheers.) This voices the determination of the people that the man occupying this high office shall be President of the whole people—(great cheering)—responding to all their wants and needs, and guided in his official action by the dictates and commands of the Constitution which we guided in his official action by the dictates and commands of the Constitution which we are all bound to obey. (Great cheering.) You welcome me as your President. I am intrusted with the immediate execution of that high office, but I beg you not to forget to-night that every one of you has a responsibility, too, connected with this high office and every branch of your Government. Our Government is such that it needs the constant watchfulness of the people. It needs their support. It needs their loyalty. (Cheers.) I am delighted to-night that this parting demonstration should be upon the part of the young men of Atlanta and of the State of Georgia. (Cheers.) Upon you, my friends, will rest in the future the preservation and protection of this Government of ours — of the people, (Great cheering.) My parting words to you shall be, Let your political action be guided by thoughtfulness of what this Government means and the purposes for which it was instituted. Be not carried away by any enthusiasm, but, guided by loyalty and chastened by a sense of your responsibility, cherish every American citizenship. (Cheering.) With these and only with these are American institutions and American liberty safe. (Prolonged and enthusiastic cheering.) afe. (Prolonged and enthusiastic cheering.

Unwelcome Visitors to a Convent. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I

Xavier's Convent, at Beatty Station, was scared out of their wits on Tuesday night by the appearance of six ill-looking tramps within the convent walls. The tramps scoured the building from garwaits. The tramps scoured the building from gar-ret to cellar for valuables and something to cat. They visited the sick room. They did no violence further than to take a bottle of wine, which was being used for medicine, and drank it. After fail-ing to find anything refreshing to the appetite they took some vestments used in the institution and made their escape before the brothers at the monastery, a mile off, could be informed of their depredations.

A Candidate's Curious Suit for Slander. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.1

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 20.-A curious suit for slander and damages has been brought here by William Wilhelm, Fusion candidate for Judge, against Capt. Richard Rahn. The complainan charges that Hahn, while at Pine Grove last week charges that mann, while at Pine Grove has week, circulated a story that Wilhelm had a dog and had him registered under the name of "Jesus Christ" at the Court-House. An order for Rahn's arrest was issued at the instance of John A. Nash, Wilhelm's counsel. Rahn heard of the intended arrest, and when spoken to denied the story in toto. Rahn is a leading Democratic politician, and is now clerk to the Mine Inspectors.

Jersey Republicans for Blaine.

TEENTON, N. J., Oct. 20,-It is significant that the 100 young Republicans, who organized a State Republican League here yesterday, were pro-nounced in their favor of Mr. Blaine, James P. Foster, President, and Harry Gleason, Secretary, of the New York City Republican Club, and W. H. Thompson, Secretary of the Connecticut State League, were present and expressed the opinion that Biaine would surely carry New York State new year.

Disastrous Fires in San Francisco.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A fire in the Fulto Iron Works at 9 o'clock last night communicated with Hinkley, Sples & Hayes's machine shop, the Hammond Car Works and Greenberg's brass foundry. The losses are: Fulton Iron Works, $100-600; Hinkley, Sples & Hayes, $30,000; Hammond, $20,000; Greenberg, $10,000. The losses are well insured, but 500 men are thrown out of employment.

Taken to Relieve Distress.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] St. John's, N. F., Oct. 20,-The Telegran charges the government of Sir Robert Thornton with spiriting away $60,000 of debentures and se-curities, deposited in the Government Savings Bank for safe-keeping, and morrgaging them to the London and Westminster Bank, as security and advances to the Colony. This money was used to relieve the distress of last winter.

Dedication of Mr. Huntington's Chapel.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
WATERBURY, CORR., Oct. 20.—C. P. Hunting. on, the railroad magnate, arrived in Torrington last night with a party of friends on a special train of Poliman cars. To-day he was present at the dedication of the elegant memorial chapel which he has erected in Harwinton, his early home. The chapel is one of the costlicst of the kind in New England.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 20.—Burglars entered Fell Six Hundred Feet. the residence of Miss E. Blackwell, who keeps a boarding-house on Farnsworth avenue, last night, and succeeded in carrying away about $100 worth fell 600 feet down the shaft of the Little Bay copper mine and broke his neck, back and both legs.

THE CHILD SAW THE MURDER.

A Six-Year-Old Girl May Send Her Mother to the Gallows. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20.-It begins to ook as though the police have got the mur derers of the old man, J. L. Howard, who was found dead under the railroad trestle Tuesday morning, and who was believed to have been killed by falling or being thrown from a passing train during the night. Three disorderly women are now in jail, surrounded by an almost perfect perfect chain of circumstantial evidence con necting them with the crime. Their names are Bettie Black, Annie Wright and Lou Wil-son. There is evidence that Howard was at are Bettie Black, Annie Wright and Lou Wilson. There is evidence that Howard was at their house on Spruce street early in the night, and he is believed to have returned and charged them with robbing him. The main witness in the affair is a little six-year-old daughter of Annie Wright, who tells the story. She says that her mother hit the man in the head with an axe, and the other woman attacked him and beat him with rocks till he was dead. Then her mother took him by the head, another girl by the feet and another by the body and carried him away.

The place where Howard's body was found is only a block and a half from where the women live, and the way is lonely, so that they could easily have placed him where he was. The body when found looked as if it had been carefully laid out, and not as if it had fallen from the train.

TO HELP THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Two Mass-Meetings to be Held Here To Night-Many Speakers Invited. The mass-meetings arranged for to-night to aid the condemned Chicago Anarchists will be held in Cooper Union Hall and Sulzer's Harlem River Park. A circular has been extensively scattered about the city announcing that the meetings will be under the auspices of District Assembly No. 49 of the Knights of Labor, and of the Central Labor Union. A large number of well-known men in the city and adjoining towns have been invited to make addresses, but it is likely that few of them will respond. Editors Shevitch and Jonas, Capt. Black, Lawyers Searing and Wakeman, Edward King, Henry Emerich, John Swinton and others will deliver speeches. iver speeches.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—In the Criminal Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—In the Criminal Court yesterday State Attorney Grinnell took action which seems to indicate that he is certain that the condemned Anarchists will be executed on Nov. 11. Judge Baker was about sentencing a thief to thirty days' imprisonment, when the State Attorney requested that the sentence be shortened, so that it would expire before the date of the executions, stating that it was desirable to have as few prisoners in the jail at that time as possible. Judge Baker acceded and made the sentence fifteen days.

CHIEF ARTHUR'S SHOT AT ANARCHY. International Convention of Locomotive En gineers Sightseeing in Chicago.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CHICAGO, Oct. 20 .- The delegates to the International Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were shown the sights of the Garden City this morning. Grand Chief Engineer P. M. Arthur in his address to the order last evening gave encouraging figures of the growth of the organization and fired this shot at the Anarchists:

Anarchists:

More and more clearly defined is the line becoming which divides the honest man—satisfied with a just remuneration which he has truly earned, until by his own effort he can rise to higher position in life—and the loud-voiced "bomb-thrower," who, scarcely able to speak the English language, seeks to win his own comfortable living from those who have worked for it, presuming upon the imagination and arousing false hopes in the hearts of those who are still more ignorant than hunerif. itration looks to a long result rather than to nemediate satisfaction, and accomplishes more han intimidation ever can hope to do.

CALIFORNIA PUBLIC MYSTIFIED.

Contradictory Stories About the Murder of the Gambler "Doc" Harlan. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WOBLD]

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—The special correspondent of the Examiner telegraphs from Los Angeles that he has seen Hattie Woolsteen. She lies in her cell in the county jail and the poison has impaired her health seriously, if it does not prove fatal. In her delirium she tried to commit suicide three times.
A wild statement was made by the gambler

A wild statement was made by the gambler associate of Dr. Harlan last night. He says that Harlan appeared to him last Monday night in disguise and stated that he (Harlan) had killed and burned a man named Oliver, a cousin of Hattie Woolsteen, because Oliver demanded reparation for the wrongs done Hattie. Now this Oliver has disappeared. A Los Angeles story is to the effect that he helped Hattie murder Dr. Harlan, and the public do not know what to believe.

HASKELL ALONE RESPONSIBLE.

He Says that Blethin had Nothing to De With the Attack on Mrs. Cleveland.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 20.-The Minnespolis Tribune this morning contains a statement, signed by William Edwin Haskell, assuming the responsibility for the attack on Mrs. Cleveland. He says that Blethin knew nothing of it, and that the article was written by one Dr. Shaw.

Haskell's father, of the Boston Herald, reaches here to-day, and Blethin may buy or sell the paper.

Too Poor to Keep Her Boy.

A handsome little lad marched into the Church treet Police Station late last night, put down his pack in front of the desk and asked for a night's pack in front of the desk and asked for a night's lodging. He told Capt, Berkhold that he was Robert Cralg, aged eleven years, and that his mother, who lives in Bridgeton, N. J., had set him adrift because she was too poor to support him. He had come to this city to seek his fortune, He was such a manly little fellow and stuck so well to his story that Capt. Berghold sent him straight to the office of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in charge of an officer, instead of keeping him in the station over night. If his story turns out to be true he will be taken care of.

the Board of Elections of Brooklyn, and they did some pretty hard thinking to find a way out of the predicament into which they got the city by ordering a session of the Boards of Registry in the 265 election districts on Tuesday last under the misapprehension that it was the day prescribed by the statute for the registration of 1886, prescribes that the days of registration shall be the last Tuesday of September, the second Tuesday in October and the Tuesday occurring two weeks before election. Election occurs "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November." This year November begins on Tuesday, thus putting election day off to the furthest limits, the Sth. Last year it occurred on Nov. 4, and Chief Perry of the Board of Elections, says that Chief Clerk Andrews in compiling his registry lists from last year's books, issued his notices for the 18th because it seemed nearest to the date of the last registry in 1886, which fell on

Oct. 21. Chief Clerk Andrews declined to talk about the matter to-day, and, in fact, he and his force seemed to be afraid to give any inform-force seemed to be afraid to give any information to the reporters.

Corporation Counsel Almet F. Jencks held a consultation with Judges Pratt and Cullen, of the Supreme Court. Both Justices were of opinion that no judicial settlement of the question of the legality of last Tuesday's registration could be obtained until some one with a grievance presented it to the Court. This could be done by having a Board of Registry strike off one of the names registered last Tuesday, when the voter whose name was stricken off could apply for a mandamus compelling its restoration.

This action was thought unnecessary, how This action was thought unnecessary, how-ever, and to-day Corporation Counsel Jencks submitted his opinion to Mayor Whitney. It was in effect that the Board of Elections had made an undoubted error in fixing last Tuesday as a day of registry, but that the error did not vitiate the registry lists and those who has registered would be entitled to yote. However, this does not relieve the Boards of Registry from campliance with the vote. However, this does not relieve the Boards of Registry from compliance with the law which fixes the Tuesday two weeks preceding the election on the last day of registry, and they thust sit again at the several polling places on Tuesday next.

polling places on Tuesday next.

Ex-Judge Benjamin F. Tracy, of the Court of Appeals, was of the same opinion. He said: "There can be no trouble unless some cantankerous inspector of election refuses the vote of some one who registered last Tuesday, and even then the trouble would only come to the inspector. It is absurd to suppose that the whole election in this great State would be with a correct that the whole election in only come to the inspector. It is absurd to suppose that the whole election in this great State would be vitiated by an error which will deprive no one of the opportunity to register, and it is equally absurd to suppose that any court would declare the election void because citizens acknowledged to be entitled to vote had been registered on a wrong day, through no fault of their own. Of course a defeated candidate might appeal to the courts on the ground of this irregularity, but unless he can show that voters were deprived of the right of franchise by it, or that men who were not legal voters had by it been permitted to cast their ballots, he would be thrown out of court. The registry is all right, and it is not at all necessary for those who appeared last Tuesday to go before the Boards of Registry again on next Tuesday."

The chairmen of the various Registry Boards made their reports to-day to the Board of Elections devesting a convert the courter.

The chairmen of the various Registry Boards made their reports to-day to the Board of Elections, depositing a copy of the registry up to Tuesday night last, when they supposed their labors had ceased as Registrars. But each was informed that another day of registry must be had next Tuesday. Their returns show that 120,077 citizens have registered, the largest number ever recorded in the city. largest number ever recorded in the city except in 1884, when there were 127,000 voters on the lists. With an extra day the latter figure should be outdone, and the result of the error of the Board of Elections may be that Brooklyn will cast a larger vote than ever before in her history. At the headquarters of the Democratic Campaign Committee an Evening World reporter was informed that the most eminent lawyers of the party would be consulted, and if they were of opinion that it was necessary, the working committee would take steps to get all Democratic voters who were registered last Tuesday to go again to the places of registry next Tuesday. The general opinion was that this would be un-

The places of registry were rented for four days: three for purposes of registration and one for the election. They were rented at a uniform rate of $5 a day, and the registrars also receive by law $5 per day for this service. An additional expense will therefore be saddled on the city of about $4,000 for the 700 registrars, $1,325 in rental for the places of registry, making a total extra cost the 700 registrars, $1,325 in rental for the places of registry, making a total extra cost to the city on account of the blunder of the Board of Elections of about $5,300. Clerk Andrews, on whom the blame is laid, is a Republican. He has been clerk of the Board of Elections twelve years.

At the rooms of the Typothetæ, Librarian Pasko said that applications continued to come from all over the United States, and that in ten days more the offices on strike would be supplied with men. Many of the applicants, he said, were not competent to fill the vacancies, but quite a number of good men were secured each day, and they were equally distributed among the offices in order to keep urgent work going.

More Evidence About the Identity of the Woman Mardered at Rabway. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

NEW BRUNSWICE, N. J., Oct. 30.-Since the name of Annie Ingraham has been associated with the identity of the murdered girl at Rahway, many persons here recall the striking resemblance of Annie to the photograph of the victim of the photograph of the victim of the mysterious crime. Ex-Chief Fitzgerald and Detective Gregory returned from their secret mission at 11.9 last night.

They refused to make known the result of their search for the alleged murderer of Annie Ingraham, but left the impression that the officers in charge of the Central Police Station at Philadelphia were working that end of the case.

It is believed that the detective has run down the man who married Annie Ingraham at Bound Brook on the night of Dec. 7, 1886, and who followed her when she fled from him on the 8th to Philadelphia. The marriage was performed by Justice of the Peace Sommers at Bound Brook, who is said to have identified some of the garments worn by Annie on that occasion, many of which she left in the possession of Mary Wilson, with whom she boarded.

DYING OF STARVATION.

Distressing Condition of a Homeless and Friendless Old Man.

In Ward 17, Bellevue Hospital, is an old man who hovers between life and death from the effects of starvation. He is John Rogan, sixty-two years of age, and a cotton spinner, who was thrown out of work in New England during a prolonged strike. and was homeless and friendless. On Sunday afternoon he wandered into the ruins of the cotton fire on Charleston and King streets. He drew a canvass bag over his face and soon fell asleep, with damp and soggy cotton for bed and covering. On Wednesday the work-men who are employed by the Underwriters to save all the cotton that is possible, wheeled their barrows over the resting-place of the tramp, and the cotton yielded, causing Rogan to utter a feeble moan. In a few mo-ments he was extricated, but so weak and helpless that he fell to the ground.

helpless that he fell to the ground.

To the workman Rogan made the startling announcement that he had lain there since the day of the fire, on May 31, and Officer Cummisky so reported at the Mercer Street Police Station. It required hours of hard work to resuscitate the starved man, and when he reached Bellevue Hospital he presented a pittable spectacle. From the tattered garments, which covered his emaciated frame; matted cotton hung in shreds, and his unshaven beard held so much of the product that he bore a striking resemblance to Rip Van Winkle.

This morning Rogan was very weak and could not retain any food on his stomach. He is searcely able to articulate, and all that he could say was that he had no home, money or friends, and for nearly four days he had kept beneath the bales of half-burned and water-soaked cotton, hoping that death would put an end to his sufferings. There is only a bare hope of his recovery.

COMPLIMENTING SIR AMBROSE SHEA.

Departure of the New Governor of the Bahama Islands.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] HALIPAX, N. S., Oct. 20.-A special from St. John's, N. F., says; Sir Ambrose Shea, on the eve of his departure to assume the office of Governor of the Bahama Islands, was presented with a highly complimentary address signed by 3,000 of his fellow-citizens, representing all classes.

It will be remembered that a year ago Sir Ambrose was appointed Governor of his native colony. That was at the time of the Orange riots at Harbor Grace. Sir Ambrose is a Roman Catholic, and the Orange leaders at first protested against the appointment, but they are now his staunchest friends, Sir Ambrose will stop in New York on his way to the Bahamas.

MARTIN GIVES HIMSELF UP. He Furnishes Bail to Appear at the Harley Disuster Inquest.

Ex-Building Inspector William J. Martin. who was summarily dismissed for negligence contributory to the Harlem school disaster, surrendered himself at the Coroners' office at noon to-day. He had heard of Coroner Eidman's warrant for his arrest, and he brought with him Christopher Boylan, of 352 East Twentieth street, who was willing to be surety for his appearance at the inquest. Coroner Eidman fixed the bail at $5,000 and Mr. Boylan signed the papers.

Martin looked very much depressed. He said that his removal was illegal and that he would sue for reinstatement.

"I was confused wasterday and made and asserted."

would sue for reinstatement.

"I was confused yesterday and made a mistake in pleading guilty to neglect in regard to the recesses," he said. "The fact is I told Father Kirner repeatedly that he must make a twelve-inch wall at the back of the recesses instead of an eight-inch wall.

"I also told him that he could not build above the second story until he got above the second story until he got a permit from the department. He went on doing as he liked, however, and the reason I did not act more promptly is that I knew he had influence enough to get the permit.

"Last Saturday I made up my mind that I could not take the responsibility of letting him do as he liked and made out a 'violation' him do as he liked and made out a 'violation' notice. I would have turned it in Monday if I had not been attending a funeral."

When asked by an Evening World reporter this morning what action could be taken against Martin, Coroner Eidman said that he could give no definite information until all the facts had been brought out at the inquest on the bodies of the victims.

"If the jury find that Martin was criminally negligent," he said, "I shall commit him to await the action of the Grand Jury, although I remember that a similar attempt to punish the negligent Building Inspector in the Buddensiek case was futile."

Western Union advancement of rates is looked for by the Street, President Green's statement to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The consolidation of the main line of the Little Rock & Eastern and the Arkansas & Southern is being discussed in St. Louis to-day.

Yesterday's hammering strength of the Bate-man and Commack combination is the talk and admiration of the Street this morning.

Fourteen ratiroads yesterday reported earnings for the first two weeks of the month, and in every case an increase was shown over last year. Bear war-cry for the day incorporated the inaany agreement, and the general bad outlook of the Grangers. The annual inspection of the Pennsylvania Rail road is now being made by President Roberts and a party of directors. Will it result in an increased dividend? Mr. Huntington has decided to put rates down to a killing point on all through business, while Mr. Gould is expected to carry out the same programme on business North and South,

Mr. Connor says to-day that it is hardly fair to call him either a buil or a bear, as in point of fact he is on the fence, although just at present slightly inclined to the long side.

"When will the public recover its senses?" A bull query propounded by White, Wormser and Pearsail, who see nothing but good features in the situation and look for higher prices.

A Manhattan buil pool is one of the "on dit" of the Street to-day. The expense-saving policy of the road would seem to indicate that Sage had pronounced designs in that direction. The report that the Baltimore and Ohio and Richmond Terminal are to be directly connected and worked in harmony with the other Trunk lines is not credited in authoritative quarters. Russell Sage and Jay Gould both take that lawt suit matter pleasantly and philosophically. 'Noworried in the least, you know, and rather glad that the old sore is to be specifically treated."

that the old sore is to be specifically treated."

Notwithstanding the general advance in railroad earnings, the Denver and Western, and the Peoria. Decatur and Evansville roads both show a slight decrease below the October record of 1884. It is currently reported on change that, notwithstanding the backing and filling of the past two weeks, it has been definitely agreed that Northern Pacific is to be a party to the joint lease of Oregon Navigation.

Navigation. George Washington Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, was on the street to-day, closeted with J. Pierpont Morgan and others of his personal friends. His visit to this city is said to be con-nected with the business of his paper.

The Street regards yesterslay's Transcontinental meeting in Chicago as a fizzle. Nothing was done, and the prospects are that cut rates have come to stay all whiter. So says President Stokney, of the Minnesota and Northwestern Railroad Company. A prominent railroad man says to-day in reference to the position of the Atchison Road, that it is encroaching on territory that does not belong to it, and wherever it goes, it insists on a division of business, which is regarded as a premium paid to new lines, and is refused. Canada May Have Free Trade with the United States, but if She So Decides She Must Separate from the Mother Country publishes the following cablegram: Mr.

Why He Does Not Want Irish Home Rule Established—Affairs in Other Lands. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 20.-The Globe to-day

Joseph Chamberlain, in his speech at Belfast Saturday, said: "Mr. Gladstone has on many occasions referred to the case of our self-governing colonies as an illustration of home rule. In his recent speeches he spoke of New South Wales; in a previous one he has spoken of Canada—but are we going to blind ourselves to the fact that the tie which connects us with our self-governing colonies s one of the slenderest descriptions; one that can be broken at pleasure by any one of those colonies, and that we should have nothing to say to it? Already the great colonies have full control over matters of criminal law, judicial and internal taxation. They make their own tariff. Some have an army of militia of their own and are now army of militia of their own and are now getting a separate navy. The arrangement between the colonies and ourselves is essentially a temporary one. It cannot remain as it is. Either, as I hope will be the case, it will in the future be strengthened by ties of federation—(cheers)—or be loosed altogether. Already you have in Canada, the greatest of all the colonies, an agitation for what is called commercial union with the United States. Commercial union with the United States means free trade between America and the Dominion and a protective tariff against the mother country. If Canada desires that, Canada can have it, but Canada knows perfectly well that commercial union with the United States means political separation from Great Britain that commercial union with the United States means political separation from Great Britain—for it is quite impossible that Great Britain should retain all the responsibilities and obligations of the Colonial connection when all the advantages are taken away. Therefore let us not shut our eyes for a moment to the fact that if, when called upon to consider the case of Ireland, a proposition is put forward making Ireland like Canada or New South Wales. We are called upon to consider a proposition for separation, whatever our opponents may call it, for the creation of Ireland as a separate kingdom—probably a separate republic. It must be on that ground and understanding that we discuss the conditions.
